SHIPPING INFORMATION

Regarding return shipping: In most cases we now require that UPS pack and ship your repaired item(s) for the return. They offer a "pack and ship guarantee". They will use new materials and insure that their strict packing requirements are met and that you're compensated should damage occur in transit. Double-boxing is also often recommended. This service will increase your return shipping cost but it's truly the best way to protect your treasured item; as well as the investment you've made and the work we've done. We won't know the UPS charge in advance. We will use your payment information at UPS and will include the receipt in your box.

I understand that Sundog Restoration Studio (SRS) cannot accept liability for damage that may occur in return shipping, do not offer refunds for damaged items and will not do the repair/restoration over at no cost. SRS will not be held liable for theft or any act of God that could further damage the items in their possession.
